Our Docket No. 6535/53651

Dear Sir/Madam:

On February 14, 2005, by facsimile (copy of confirmation of receipt by the USPTO attached) this office filed a Petition for Revival of an Application for Patent Abandoned Unintentionally Under 37 CFR 1.137(b) with the required fee. It has been almost one year since the petition was filed and we have heard no response from the Office of Petitions.

Please match the enclosed copy of the petition filed on February 14, 2005 with the file. We would appreciate it if you would expedite this petition, in light of the fact that it has been almost a year since the petition was filed. If you require any other information from us, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Very Truly Yours,
Law Office of Mark J. Spolyar

Amendments to the Claims:

This listing of claims will replace all prior versions, and listings, of claims in the application:

Listing of Claims:

1. - 15. (canceled)

16. (original) A method allowing for a visible indication that a bandage should be changed, the method comprising the steps of:

maintaining a supply of bandages, wherein each bandage in said supply is marked with one of seven different colors, and wherein said supply of bandages includes bandages from all of the seven different colors;

associating each of the seven different colors with a different day of the week; and

applying one of said bandages to a patient, wherein the bandage is marked with the color associated with the then-current day of the week.

17. (original) A method allowing for a visible indication that a bandage should be changed, the method comprising the steps of:

maintaining a supply of bandages, wherein each bandage in said supply is marked with one of seven different colors, and wherein said supply of bandages includes bandages from all of the seven different colors;

associating each of the seven different colors with a different day of the week; and

applying one of said bandages to a patient, wherein the bandage is marked with the color associated with the day of the week on which removal of said bandage is intended.

18. (original) A method allowing for a visible indication that a bandage should be changed, the method comprising the steps of:

maintaining a supply of bandages, wherein each bandage in said supply is marked with one of set of different markings, and wherein said supply of bandages includes bandages from all of the set of different markings;

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

Claims 1-22 are currently pending in the present application. In the Office Action of March 29, 2004, the Examiner had finally rejected claims 1-15 and 22 in the present application. Claims 16-21 have been allowed.

Accordingly, Applicant has canceled the rejected claims to allow the application to proceed to issue.

In light of the foregoing, Applicant believes that all currently pending claims are presently in condition for allowance. Applicant respectfully requests a timely Notice of Allowance be issued in this case.

If the Examiner believes that a telephone conference would expedite prosecution of the present application, the Examiner is invited to call the undersigned at the telephone number set forth below.

Respectfully Submitted,
